Jersey Editing 101

Step 1 - Unzip folder into any location. I prefer to unzip the folder to a sub-folder in my NHL95 root directory. The compressed folder includes all of the files needed to modify the jerseys in NHL95PC.

So what is actually in this folder?

- *.PCX, logo files (used by JED.EXE, not NHL95)
- *.J95, jersey files (used by JED.EXE, not NHL95)
- CRESTS4.PPV, contains all of the logo files for import into NHL95PC
- AWAYPALS.BIN, contains the away team jerseys
- HOMEPALS.BIN, contains the home team jerseys
- JED.EXE, jersey editing program

(I run this program in DOSBOX using the D-Fend Reloaded frontend.)

Step 2 - Run JED.EXE

Step 3 - Scroll through the teams using the up/down keys to find the team who's jersey(s) you want to replace.

Step 4 - Use the left/right keys to switch between home and away jerseys.

Step 5 - Overwrite the currently active jersey by "pasting" one of the jerseys in the current folder. Use the F3 key and type the name of the jersey file (listed in this document for reference).

Step 6 - Import the team logo by pressing F6 and typing the name of the logo file (listed in this document for reference).

Step 7 - Repeat this process as necessary for other teams.

Step 8 - Save your changes to the PPV file and the BIN files by pressing F2. None of your changes will take effect unless you save.

Step 9 - Copy and paste the CRESTS4.PPV, AWAYPALS.BIN, and HOMEPALS.BIN into your NHL95PC root directory. Overwrite the existing files.

Step 10 - Run NHL95PC and your jersey modifications will appear in game.

Frequently Asked Questions

Q: The jerseys look great in JED.EXE, I saved the files and copy/pasted them into the NHL95 root directory. So why is it when I play the game the jersey colors look funny?

A: You forgot to import the *.PCX logo after importing the new jerseys. The process of reordering the color palette occurs when you import the logo and if this is not done it can sometimes create weird colors during gameplay.

Q: Why can't I read the jersey numbers in the in-game line editor?

A: The in-game line editor jerseys are generated using the home team's jersey colors. The jersey number color corresponds to the "side spot" color in JED.EXE. For many of the jersey's I've created I don't like setting the side spot color to a color that contrasts the main jersey's color. You can fix this yourself by manually changing the side spot color in JED.EXE or using an external tool to edit your lines.
